DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/8/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that the reference Wyman is in direct contrast to the limitations recited in Claims 3, 11, and 19. The Applicant substantiates that argument by citing "In operation of the distributed system of FIG. 1, the producer 28 gives the issuer 25 authority to grant licenses on its behalf (the producer and issuer can be a single entity or multiple entities). The license document generator program 26, under control of a user (a person), generates a license (usually the result of negotiation between the user of program 26 and a user of the server 10). "

The Applicant then goes on to incorrectly quote Wyman by stating, "As stated above, the generation of the license is the results of a negotiation between the user of a program 26 and the user of the server 10." It would appear that the Applicant has eliminated the modifier "usually" and is treating the statement as an absolute action of the results always being by negotiations between the users. The Examiner submits that Wyman does not teach away from generating a license based upon the unilateral input of a licensee or teaches that the only way to obtain a license is through negotiations. A reference is to be considered not only for what it expressly states, but also for what it would reasonably have suggested to one of ordinary skill in the art. In re DeLisle, 160 USPQ 806 (CCPA 1969). The Examiner further submits that unilateral input is required in Wyman when requesting the use of a license. Wyman discloses, the license server maintaining a database of product use authorizations for the licensed products, and accesses this database for updating and when a request is received from a user.

Claims 3-5, 7, 8, 11-13, 15, 16, 19-22, and 24-26 are pending.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 3-5, 7, 8, 11-13, 15, 16, 19-22, and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wyman U.S. Patent 5,260,999 [Wyman], and further in view of Stefik et al. U.S. Patent 6,714,921 [Stefik].

As per claims 3, 11 and 19:

Wyman discloses:

maintaining a number of entities in the license repository in a server, Col. 6, lines 43-67, by maintaining a profile for each of the entities, Col. 20, lines 28-35, the number entities including a number of licensors and a number of licensees; Col. 6, lines 43-67, each of the profiles including point of contact for at least one of the entities in the license repository. Col. 20, lines 28-35.

generating a number of licenses between respective pairs of the licensees and the licensors based upon an input from at least one of the licensees and the licensors, respectively; Col. 7, lines 49-67 maintaining the licenses in the license repository. Col. 10, lines 30-55.

wherein the step of generating the number of licenses between respective pairs of the licensees and the licensors based upon the input from the at least one of the licensees and the licensors, further comprises: Col. 11-12, lines 1-67.

generating a first one of the licenses based upon a unilateral input by a first one of the entities; Col. 11-12, lines 1-67.

notifying a second one of the entities that is party to the first one of the licenses of the creation of the first one of the licenses. Col. 11-12, lines 1-67.

wherein the first one of the licenses is unconfirmed; Col. 8, lines 5-20: and receiving a confirmation status input from the second one of the entities indicating whether the first one of the licenses is confirmed. Col. 8, lines 5-20.

Wyman discloses the claimed invention except for the use of the term Repository. Stefik teaches that it is known in the art to provide a repository for maintaining the licenses. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the storage of the licenses of Wyman with the storage of the licenses in a repository of Stefik, in order to further clarify the storage function.

As per claims 4, 12, and 20:

Wyman further discloses:

further comprising maintaining a confirmation status of at least one of the licenses in the license repository. Fig. 27.

As per claims 5, 13, and 22:

Wyman discloses the claimed invention except for the modifying a first one of the profiles in the license repository based upon a modification input received from a first one of the entities; and notifying a second one of the entities that is party to one of the licenses with the first one of the entities of the modifying of the first one of the profiles.

Stefik teaches that it is known in the art to provide modifying a first one of the profiles in the license repository based upon a modification input received from a first one of the entities; and notifying a second one of the entities that is party to one of the licenses with the first one of the entities of the modifying of the first one of the profiles.

Col. 41-42, lines 1-67.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the registration function of Wyman with the modifying a first one of the profiles in the license repository based upon a modification input received from a first one of the entities; and notifying a second one of the entities that is party to one of the licenses with the first one of the entities of the modifying of the first one of the profiles of Stefik, in order to facilitate the tracking of the use of the selected program..

As per claims 7, 15, and 21:

Wyman further discloses:

maintaining a number of license products associated with at least one of the licensors in the license repository. Col. 24-25, lines 1-67.

As per claims 8, 16, and 24:

Wyman further discloses:

an additional one of the number of license products in the license repository based upon a license product input from the at least one of the licensors. Col. 28, lines 35-67.

As per claim 25:

Wyman further discloses:

wherein the step of maintaining the confirmation status of the at least one of the licenses in the license repository further comprises indicating whether the at least one of the licenses is denied. Col. 38, lines 35-40.

As per claim 26:

Wyman further discloses:

wherein the step of maintaining the confirmation status of the at least one of the licenses in the license repository further comprises indicating whether the at least one of the licenses is confirmed. Col. 38, lines 20-25.
